Dedication

COMBINING athletic ability with an easy-going personality in the classroom, versatile Harry Gordon has won the respect and admiration of all with whom he has come in contact. Whether in his English, gym, physics, trigonometry, or algebra class, for he has taught all these subjects, his willingness to learn something new from his pupils every day has made him many friends. In addition to his teaching, his coaching ability has done much to improve the school's football, basketball, and baseball teams.

We the senior class of 1945 do therefore respectfully dedicate this Caldron to Mr. Harry Gordon.

Administration

"DUE to the present shortage of coal—Quiet please, I haven't finished." These words, coming over the P. A. system on February 2nd, illustrate the sense of humor of Mr. Morley. Busy with the nine hundred and ninety-nine (count them!) duties of a high school principal he always finds time to be pleasant to everyone.

"What can I do for you, Young Lady (or Man) ?" These words are familiar to anyone who has needed help, for they come from Mr. Flint who serves as dean of boys.

"May I take English VI if I haven't had English V?"

Is this question familiar, Miss Whitsey? It ought to be, for Miss Whitsey, our educational advisor, answers it and others like it every day.

"But Dearie, it's so expensive, don't you see!" It must be Miss Wallace. Dean of girls at Heights, Miss Wallace is a real friend to all.

Mr. Wiley, Superintendent of Cleveland Heights Schools, and Mr. Davis, are not often seen at Heights but their influence is widely felt—especially the day after Christmas vacation (no school, remember?).

Office and Library

THE Office staff this year was composed of five efficient and charming ladies. Miss Whitsey's secretary was Miss Denham, a very friendly person. Friend of the seniors is Miss Seigman, who checks their credits for graduation—it pays to stay on the good side of her! Miss Kaufman is in charge of sending transcripts to colleges and keeping attendance records. Always thoughtful and kind is Mrs. Herstand who checks the credits of new students and records grades. Miss Traeger's special department is absence bulletins, P.A. announcements, and answering telephone calls. She is also known as the creator of the "purple heart" which circulates among members of the office staff "wounded in the line of duty."

The library staff was composed of Miss Case, Mrs. Smith, and Miss Mingle. Familiar to all students, they are a great help to those who need a certain book, that contains a certain sentence on a certain page that is "just what the teacher wanted." Although the staff is very pleasant about it all, life is sometimes made difficult by overdue overnight books and students who will not use the library for studying.

History Department

THE History Department at Heights is divided into four sections consisting of ancient, medieval, modern and American histories. This year the department is represented by six men and three women, each of whom may be remembered by some likeable characteristic.

Mr. Zweig is a newcomer to Heights who likes students and to prove it, razzes them occasionally. Mr. Fast bears a striking resemblance to President Roosevelt in the way he drawls out his words, while Mr. Engel is a man who has a pleasant hello for one and all. Also in the department are quiet, amiable Mr. Lehman and good-natured Mr. Barbour. Both are recalled by their students for their "tough" tests.

Miss Clark is gratefully remembered for her helpful outlines. Mrs. McCabe's favorite expression is "fuzzy" information which causes some agitation among the students. Mrs. Baker, an extremely pleasant person, in addition to teaching, acts as faculty advisor for the Student Council.

English Department

THE largest department at Heights is the English department with fifteen teachers. Miss Tyler, who also has charge of assemblies, expects much from her students, but gives them a great deal in return. As faculty advisor of the Caldron literary staff for fifteen years, Miss Mason did a wonderful job; this year's advisor is popular Mrs. Liston. The Heights literary magazine, The Crest, is sponsored by another English teacher, Miss Malin. Miss Regan, whose hard work made the Heights Junior Red Cross chapter well known, makes even poetry interesting. Fun-loving Mrs. Winslow and quiet Miss Layer are well liked by everyone. Two men in a largely feminine department, Mr. Winters and Mr. Clifford nevertheless hold their own. Miss Verhulst stresses precision of detail, while Mrs. Bardarof's outstanding characteristic is patience.

Modern literature is taught by Miss Braselton, who is noted for her bits of profitable advice. Dramatics is taught by charming Miss Evans, and public speaking by Miss Stephens who loves to raise her eyebrows and let the pupils in on a secret. Mr. Spencer, sponsor of the Black and Gold, trains future news writers in journalism.

Who's Helping Whom?

Mathematics Department

THE mathematics department has a maximum enrollment this year, for many pupils have realized that math is essential for scientific work, and for the Army and Navy placements tests.

Plane geometry, the sophomore math, is taught by Mr. Harter, Mr. McAfee, Mr. Cox, and Mr. Budde. Mr. Harter, who also has advanced algebra and trigonometry classes, is an excellent instructor and a "regular fellow". Mr. Cox is a favorite with the girls and a "real card" in class.

Advanced algebra is handled by Dr. Strauss, Mrs. Marsh, Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Fraunfelter. Recently returned after a three years' absence while serving as a major in the army, Mr. Phillips, head of the department, is now teaching algebra and geometry. A newcomer to the department, Mrs. Marsh formerly taught commercial subjects.

Solid geometry and trigonometry, the senior courses, are taught by Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Fraunfelter. Mr. McLaughlin is the giant of the department and a stickler for hard work, while proving that the best things come in small packages, "Frauny" is a fine teacher and a real friend.

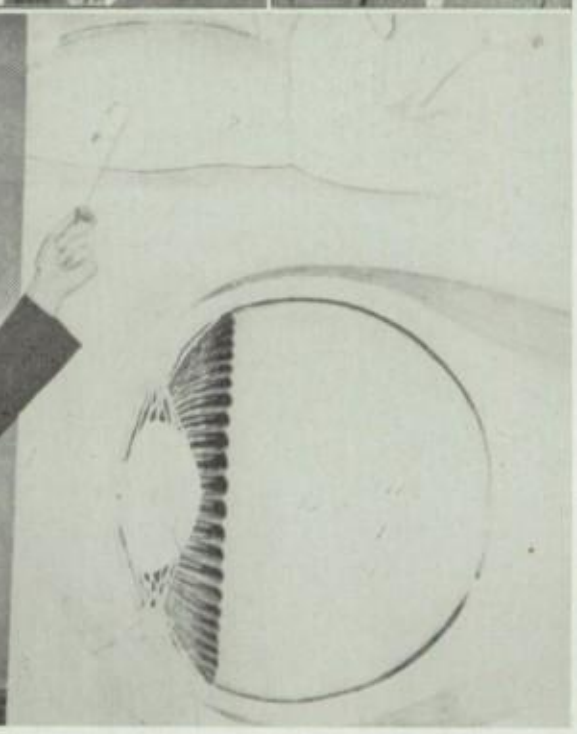
The "Eyes" Have It



Science Department

"OH, I hate science!" These words were never (well, hardly ever) mentioned at Heights, for the three science courses offered have become exceedingly popular. Biology is taught by Mr. Downey, Mr. Christman, Mr. Lawson, and Mrs. Klein. Mr. Downey is known for his wonderful handwriting and the colorful charts he paints. Most people don't realize that Mr. Lawson has charge of checking the eligibility lists for athletics, a tough job. Mr. Christman is known to his students for his friendliness. Mrs. Faulkner, the only woman in the department, was replaced by Mrs. Klein at the end of the first semester.

Chemistry is taught by Mr. Langmead and Mr. Uber. Only when Mr. Langmead writes on the blackboard, equations that cover two sides of the room, does the student really appreciate chemistry. Pupils in Mr. Uber's classes get a kick out of his big, ear-to-ear grin.

Physics! This senior course is taught by silent Mr. Dewald. Known to all physics students is his famous generator notebook. Helping Mr. Dewald this year was versatile and capable Mr. Gordon.

Too Many Cooks?
"Strick"-ly Business

in Memory of
Miss Dorothy Deering

FOR twenty-three years the home economics department was served by Miss Dorothy Deering, one of its most faithful and competent members. She was a real scholar, graduating with honors from Laurel School, and, when in college, being elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Deering received both a B.A. and a B.S. from Flora Stone Mather, and an M.A. from Columbia University. Her death occurred on December 4, 1944.

Art Department

"ARS Gratis Artis" but art also for the sake of a grade might well be the words of affable Miss Wiswall. In collaboration with her is quiet, soft spoken Miss Bulkley, who spends a good deal of her spare time learning more about her profession. Besides teaching the girls how to cook, Miss Leibold tells them how to plan a meal and keep a budget.

The choir director, Mr. Strickling, is a hard working, aggressive man who devotes much time to his work. "An invigorating man with a good sense of humor" are the characteristics which well describe our Band and Orchestra leader, Mr. Rush, who instills much pep at Heights.

"One of the boys" is the phrase fellows have given Mr. Barnhard, commonly called "Barnie", who teaches metal shop. Mr. Weber, auto-shop teacher, is friendly and understanding. He always greets the boys with, "What do you say, boys?" Mechanical drawing is taught by "Mac" Williams, a very systematic fellow with a great deal of humor. Mr. Prince, driving teacher, is known for writing letters to former homeroom boys now in the service.

Language Department

THE various languages taught at Heights include Spanish, Latin, French, and German. Spanish is taught by Mrs. Blanchard, Mr. DuPras, Mr. Randall, and Miss Manning. Everyone has regretted Mrs. Blanchard's leave of absence, for although she is strict, she is a teacher whom the students enjoy. Another teacher whose return from a protracted illness was welcomed was Mr. DuPras, noted for his smiling, ruddy face. Mr. Randall, an excellent Spanish teacher, also finds time for commercial law. Miss Manning's cheerful and pleasing personality makes her one of the best liked language teachers.

Familiar names with the French students are Miss Monnett, Mr. Lorz, and Miss Magor. Students enjoy Miss Monnett's short talks about experiences abroad. "A test a day keeps the cobwebs away" seems to be Mr. Lorz's motto, not always appreciated by his students. Miss Magor's program includes Spanish and English as well as French.

Miss Edwards and Mr. Burnham teach the "language of much difficulty", Latin. Miss Edwards is faculty sponsor of the Hermes. Mr. Burnham is loved for his occasional jokes. Last but not least is German which is taught by Miss Parry, faculty sponsor of the German Club.

Eyes on Your Copy!

TYPING, shorthand, commercial law, commercial math, and commercial English are the five subjects offered in this department. P. A. Cooley, sometimes known as "Pa", teaches commercial math. Mr. Behney, known for his smiling eyes and also the miraculous way in which he can decipher those queer little marks, supposedly shorthand, is also financial sponsor of the Caldron. Mrs. Jones has no trouble getting acquainted with students because of the personal interest she takes in each one, and the great deal of enthusiasm she has for sports. Miss Bromelmeier, nicknamed "Bromie", teaches a variety of commercial subjects, and also finds time to act as faculty sponsor for the Tennis Club. Mrs. Magee, a typing teacher, tells her students "to be sure to get nervous and excited while taking time tests"; for some reason or other this saying makes the tests go easier. Last but not least, there is Mr. Price who teaches commercial math and is said to have a "Bark worse than his bite."

Physical Education Department

PRIDE of the girls' gym department is lively Mrs. Turner, "Mrs. T" to those who know her well, whose favorite words are "Try again". Swimming teacher is likeable Miss Crane, who always wears a smile. Walking into a girls' hygiene class you might find Miss Weller explaining a thermometer to a bewildered student. "May I go to the nurse?" is a familiar phrase to teachers; Mrs. Jenkins, school nurse, always tends our injuries but often sends us back to class again.

This year the boys' gym classes are being managed by two new teachers, Mr. Baughman and Mr. Piloseno, our new football coaches. Mr. Baughman introduced wrestling to the school, which was enthusiastically received by many boys. "Van", the athletic director at Heights, still gives the boys a workout in swimming classes. "Cap" Bird is too busy with hygiene classes to teach gym this year, but the senior gym "Eskimo Patrol" still continues.

January Class Officers

DAVE AYARS. When all the good adjectives in the dictionary are combined, the result is a description of that pleasant, witty, and ambitious Dave Ayars, who was president of his Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. Dave proved his capability and leadership as Senior class president when the paper sale and Senior Prom went off like clockwork. He upheld the honor of his office not only athletically as a member of the swimming team, but also scholastically as a member of N. H. S., the Student Council, and the Caldron Staff. To say that Heights will lose an all around swell fellow and an invaluable class officer is putting it mildly.

CHUCK BRANDEN. Friendly, cheerful, and unassuming may well describe the capable vice-president of this class, who took over his position at the beginning of the Senior year. If a newcomer to the school should see this dark-complexioned, well-dressed individual, it would not be hard for him to realize why Charlie was so popular. This ardent lover of such subjects as physics, trigonometry, etc., managed to keep his grades up, and also carried out his duties as vice-president to the best interest of his class. Chuck's ability was also displayed as a member and officer of Wistgoma Hi-Y. A typical class officer, he will be greatly missed as he leaves Heights High.

SALLY JO WASSON. The office of secretary of the January class was held by attractive, peppy, and popular Sally Jo Wasson. After holding this position for three consecutive years, plus being president of Girls' Cabinet, Thespians, and Junior Foreign Affairs Council, she received a final tribute by being chosen the outstanding girl graduate of her class. Everyone who knew her will not soon forget that happy, friendly little chatterbox who was so helpful and considerate to others in times of need. There is no doubt in anyone's mind that "Sophie" will really be missed after doing such a marvelous job during her high school life.

JOAN MURPHY. The capable "banker" for the January class was smiling, hard-working Joan Murphy. Always the first to lend a hand and help plan social functions such as class dinners, dances, and, of course, the Senior Prom, she carried out her duties without the slightest grumble or complaint about doing more than her share. Her ability as an industrious worker was also demonstrated as she held down several offices in the Junior and Senior Literary Clubs. She has also been an active member of the Friendship Club. Our loss was the future world's gain as "Murph" received her diploma—a truly small compensation in return for such excellent service.

June Class Officers

BILL ASIANO. As a final tribute from his class, tall, likable, and easy-going Bill Asiano was elected to take over the office of Senior Class President in his AI year. Undoubtedly his cheerful sense of humor and pleasing personality contributed to the fact that his popularity was envied by practically every fellow in the school. Bill was largely responsible for making the Senior Prom a success, for he was the lad who handled the tickets and the money (lucky stiff). He has also made a name for himself as a member of Boosters and an officer of Beta Hi-Y. Bill has really given his all as the mentor of the June class.

EILEEN O'DONNELL. Pert, vivacious, and ever-smiling may well describe our little vice-president, "O'Dee", for she is as well known around Heights High for her pep and vitality as she is for her pleasing personality and smile. Her activities have not been confined to those of a class officer, for she has been very active in sports as vice-president of both G. A. A. and Swim Cadets and as a member of Yellow Jackets. Those people who attended the swimming meets in the Heights pool will recall that she had an important part in the Girls' Swimming Program between events. Eileen has been, in the minds of her classmates, an excellent officer and a wonderful friend.

DOLORES FARAH. Lively, enthusiastic Dolores Farah was the gal behind the pen this year and what a whale of a job she did. Her efforts were aimed not only toward those duties of a class officer, but also toward supporting G. A. A., Cadet Leaders, and Boosters Club. As a member of the Senior Prom committee she did more than her share of the work by selling bids and helping in the planning for decorations and refreshments. The folks that know her best will testify to the fact that she is one of the friendliest and kindest girls at Heights, a swell kid and lots of fun.

JOHN CLARK. When the name of John Clark is heard, one immediately thinks of that husky, affable treasurer of the June Class, who has worked so hard cracking jokes and at the same time maintaining enough seriousness to carry out his duties as an officer. This energetic individual was also an extremely active worker in Hi-Y activities and a forceful noon-movie and corridor guard. We all remember Johnnie as a tough linesman on the varsity football and as the first president of the Inter Fraternity and Sorority Council here at Heights. Also we might add that John has been one terrific guy and a much-appreciated helper for his efforts in planning the Senior Prom.

Hellooooo!!

STUDENT LIFE

Outstanding Graduates

January

OF all the honors bestowed upon a senior, that of outstanding graduate is perhaps the most coveted. This January, clean-cut, capable Frank Moskowitz was chosen by his class as its most deserving member. Always a leader, Frank has shown his abilities in various fields. On the basketball court, as president of the Student Council, vice-president of his class for two years, in N.H.S. and in numerous clubs, wherever found, he has preserved the easygoing poise and geniality which have made him so popluar.

PEPPY! Pretty! Popular! A combination of the three serves as a perfect description of Sally Jo Wasson, outstanding girl graduate of the January class. Not only was she president of Thespians, J.F.A.C. and Girls' Cabinet, but she was also vice-president of Heights Players and secretary of her class for three consecutive years. Active in athletics, "Sophie" was an enthusiastic member of G.A.A. and Gym Cadets. Her literary ability enabled her to be elected to the office of president of Junior Literary Club. Recognition as outstanding graduate was rightfully awarded to Sally Jo.

June

THE admirable qualities of leadership, ability, and ambition are quickly recognized in any person, and the June class picked, for its outstanding graduate, a boy who has all of these—Bill Asiano. During his three years at Heights Bill was active on the Student Council and in Intramurals, devoted some time to football and Boosters Club, and twice served the school as a corridor guard. When a senior, he further distinguished himself as the able president of his graduating class. Tall and lanky, with an amiable grin, Bill's poise and perseverance won him this final honor.

BOOSTERS, Broadcasters, Cadets, Junior Foreign Affairs, G.A.A., N.H.S., and Student Council! With a list of activities such as these, it is little wonder that Robyna McGee was chosen by her class as its outstanding girl graduate. Throughout her enviable high-school career, the genial and ever smiling Robyna was an industrious scholar, and a tireless worker. While a junior her ambition and energy won her the Student Council vice-presidency and in the middle of her final semester, she was boosted from this capacity to that of president, an honor rarely bestowed upon a Heights girl.

A Study in Brass

Tips from Mr. Rush

Concerts

THIS year, as always, both the Band-Orchestra and Choir concerts attracted record audiences and proved to be fine musical entertainment. The former concert was under the able direction of Mr. Rush, and consisted first of several selections by the orchestra and a cello solo by Dick Newman with Joan Terr assisting at the piano. The band took over for the second half of the program, offering such numbers as a "South American Rhapsody" and a series of numbers with the Roosevelt Singers. The concert closed with the usual brilliant performance of Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever". The Choir concert took place on December 20th, beginning with the traditional inspiring candle-light procession in a darkened auditorium. Guided by Mr. Strickling, the eighty-six voices rendered in fine style such pieces as the ever-popular "Make Believe", selections from Oklahoma, and a lively Negro spiritual, with special song groups by both the Harmoneers and Harmonettes. Heights is justifiably proud of its music department.

Eureka!

Productions

ON Friday, November 3rd, the students of Heights plus a large number of parents witnessed the first Heights Players' production of the year. The play, "Out of the Frying Pan", proved highly entertaining, being filled with such high spots as Malcolm Elsoffer's appearance in varicolored shorts. The plot dealt with six aspiring young actors and actresses (Malcolm Elsoffer, Fred Scadding, Lee Kohrman, Elaine Jacobs, Shirley Hoak, Iris Rose, and Martha Walthall) who share an apartment to lessen expenses. The father (Don Miller) of the girl who assumes the major part of the expenses appears, and humorous complications arise as the apartment's occupants attempt to conceal the truth. Other members of the cast were: Shirley Fleshin, as the ignorant maid; Bob Holt, the sought-after producer; and Jim Nusbaum and Roger Seiler as "typical" policemen. Such a plot and cast, competently directed by Miss Evans, resulted in a most successful production.

Joe and Hedy Heights

TODAY'S the day of the big game. It's Heights versus Collinwood on the gridiron of the former and it promises to be a fight to the finish. As we take a squint in the locker room we see the players having their ankles taped by "Big Dan" Piloseno, the assistant coach. One of these poor victims is Joe Heights, better known to us as Bill Prall. His moll, Hedy Heights—as portrayed by Kay Holder —has been busy all morning decorating "Ye Olde Goal Posts" for the big fray. Although completely whacked out from her recent display of vim, vigor, and vitality, she grabs a vitamin pill and indulges in some football with Joe.

After a few minutes of hard playing (ho hum) Joe returns to the locker room to get dressed for the game, while Hedy gallops over to the corner to meet her friends. Then en masse (should be en mess) they return to the field to cheer the team on.

How's the View?

Hit 'Em HARD!

Now the teams have lined up on either side of the field and the whistle has sounded for the kickoff. Back and forth, up and down the field, both teams trade hands on the ball with each player giving all he's got to put the ball across the goal. The spectators are screaming their lungs out in one of the greatest displays of school spirit ever seen.

Then comes the gun for the half! The stands are in an uproar, for the score now stands at 6-0 in favor of the Rangers. While Hedy munches on a well-mustarded hot-dog and an extra-large apple,

Oh, for a Slingshot!!

Go to a Football Game

CRUNCH!!!!!

Joe and the Heights "11" retreat to the locker room for a "pause that refreshes" in the form of a few last minute instructions from "Big Dan". Meanwhile on the field, Hedy is enjoying a marvelous display of precision marching as our own Heights band "struts its stuff."

But soon it is time for the third quarter to begin. It is still "any body's game," and both teams are fighting for a victory. As Hedy watches tensely, Joe gains many well-needed yards for the Bengals, fighting and struggling to get that pig skin over the goal. As the spectators watch nervously the entire team, working together, makes one final push. And with that supreme effort the Tigers gain a victory, for at the last bark of the gun the score stands 7-6 in favor of the "Battling Bengals."

As Hedy and her friends shout wildly with excitement, half-laughing, half-crying, Joe and the other members of the team make their way again to the locker room thronged on all sides by a spirited mass of spectators.

At long last the swarming crowd clears, revealing Hedy waiting patiently for Joe. After a few minutes Joe appears, a large grin on his well-scrubbed face.

Thus, as old Sol slips lazily into the west, Hedy and Joe may be seen making their way to the nearest drugstore for a soda to celebrate the triumphant victory.

CLUBS

Senior Literary Club

Look Purty, Now!

WHERE do the upper-class girls spend their ninth period on alternate Thursdays? Those who are lucky enough to obtain a recommendation from their English teacher spend this period in Room 216. This is the meeting place of the Senior Literary Club sponsored by Miss Braselton.

What goes on at their meetings?

As a group they review recent books and movies, and they often have splendid guest speakers, who contribute a great deal to the reviews. The Senior Literary Club also does its bit for the war effort. Each member contributes forty-five minutes a month of her time doing worthy Red Cross Work. Every night at two forty-five, one can find a group of the members busily engaged in filling scrapbooks of cartoons for the U.S.O.

If you have ever wondered who transferred the reading cards from one English teacher to another at the end of the semester, your problem is solved. The girls of this club are responsible for this tedious job.

The poetry records which are used extensively in the English department were purchased by the Senior Literary Club.

The work of the Senior Literary Club not only is constructive to the minds of its members, but it also provides an excellent social atmosphere for high-school girls.

Junior Literary Club

IF you are an underclass girl with a high English average, and a recommendation from your homeroom teacher or your English teacher, you may be invited to join the Junior Literary Club. This club is the junior partner of the Senior Literary Club. The purpose of the organization is the furthering of literary appreciation and knowledge.

The club meets in the cafeteria on alternate Thursdays, under the sponsorship of Miss Wallace. The presidents this year were Elizabeth McConoughey and Lois Kline, and they both did a grand job in conducting the meetings.

At the beginning of the year, Miss Case, a regular contributor to the club's program, reviewed the recent best sellers. Miss Karls, a young woman from Iceland, spoke to the club about her native land, its people, and customs. Various members entertained the club with book reports of all types of books and literature.

That's Mary Behind the Face!

Besides their literary work, the club devotes much time to Red Cross work. This year's projects included making humorous place cards for the veterans at Marine Hospital, gay scrapbooks of cartoons, and pamphlets containing cut-out magazine stories, all of which were warmly welcomed by the boys.

French Club

THE French Club is composed of thirteen members who meet every other Tuesday in Room 225. The members are primarily interested in the French language.

Although the club is small, it is an efficient working unit that accomplishes much under the direction of Mr. DuPras. The main objective each semester is to write and edit the French paper "Le Circle du Francais."

In addition to writing the French paper, the members learn about French customs, manners and government. This is brought about by listening to French music on records, by reading books, and by hearing lectures both in English and in French.

German Club

THIS year the German Club, sponsored by Miss Parry, was one of the most important clubs at Heights. The club offers interesting facts concerning Germany, its people, and its language to a group of faithful members.

Because of the war, much time has been spent in discussion of the German ideology and the nature of the people in order to determine intelligently what should be done with Germany after the war. Interesting talks given by members who have lived in that country or have traveled there provide a basic understanding of German life. The highlight of the year was a lecture by a member of the Cleveland Art Museum staff who, by means of an interesting technicolor movie, vividly explained the architecture, business, and urban life of Germany.

Library Club

THE Library Club consists of approximately ten members, with Miss Mingle as their advisor. Meetings are held at three-thirty every other Friday. Here the girls do Red Cross work, discuss their different duties in the library, and make plans for trips to such places as the bindery, Halle's book store, and the Public Library. At the beginning of the year, the club's officers were elected, with Janet Kantor as president, Joan Lehman as vice president, Jane Spink as secretary and Anne Zucker as treasurer. Each year the club looks forward to its annual Book Week tea, to which all members of the faculty are invited. At the close of the year is the annual picnic at which everyone is guaranteed a good time. The members of the club are the girls who spend a bit of their extra time each week working in your school library.

Heights Broadcasters

WHEN speaking of rendering school service, do not forget the daily student announcements given by none other than the Heights Broadcasters. Also remember the numerous special broadcasts presented throughout the year on outstanding occasions.

These, however, are not the only activities of the broadcasting club. Every Thursday afternoon in their weekly productions, the members gain experience in acting in, directing and writing radio plays, as well as knowledge concerning sound effects and other mechanical work pertaining to radio.

This well rounded program, which includes frequent tours to radio stations, clearly reflects the great amount of work in which the members of this club indulge in their attempt to gain perfection.

Junior Foreign Affairs

ALTHOUGH the Junior Foreign Affairs Council, under the sponsorship of Mrs. McCabe, is a comparatively new organization, it is already a smoothly-functioning club. Each year the club selects one country as its topic for the year, this year's choice being Russia. The religion, customs, politics, and geography of this country were thoroughly presented by means of panel discussions. At each meeting several girls discussed one of the phases of Russian life. In this way a better knowledge and understanding of other people in the world is obtained.

On Saturday, March 17, six delegates, selected by Miss McCabe and Marian Fickel, second-semester president of the organization, represented Heights at a Student Conference of International Affairs, held at Western Reserve University. These delegates, Doris Temme, Robyna McGee, Jean Zettelmeyer, Marian Fickel, Marye Jeffery, and Virginia Bender, joined representatives of 25 other high schools in a discussion of "A Proposed Peace Settlement for Europe."

Early in the year there were two teams of twenty girls each busy selling tickets for the movie, "Best Foot Forward". The proceeds from this movie, amounting to fifty dollars, were given to Russian War Relief, since Russia was the topic of the year. The team which sold the least tickets provided the refreshments for a gay party later in the year. Another highspot was the club's fudge sale, when about nine-hundred pieces of fudge were rapidly sold in the front hall. Altogether being a member of the Junior Foreign Affairs Council means good fun, and interesting learning.

Managers Club

WHEN you are seated in the auditorium enjoying a Heights Players production, do you ever think of who handled the selling of your ticket or who directed you to your seat? There is an efficient organization at Heights that devotes itself to the handling of the sale of tickets to the Height's Players productions, the Choir concerts, the Band and Orchestra concerts, the Hi-Y shows, and various other entertainments. This club, the Managers Club, not only takes care of the ticket-selling end of the various productions, but also provides ushers to direct the audience to their proper seats.

During rationing the Managers are always ready to help. They donate many valuable service hours to school and community and never receive any remuneration for their efforts. One of their many little jobs is the guarding of the auditorium doors during the assembly period.

In order to become a member of this club one must pass a test concerning the floor-plan of the auditorium. By requiring this knowledge of the auditorium, the club insures the efficiency of its members. The girls in the organization are required to wear dark skirts and white blouses when ushering, which creates a uniform appearance and which, together with their air of competence and authority, sets them apart from the general onlookers.

The next time you attend a production in Heights' auditorium, notice the trim and efficient ushers who help make it possible for you to enjoy such programs.

Science Club

IN 1943 the Biology Club was abolished and in 1944 the Science Club, including also chemistry and physics, took its place. Now this organization includes not only study of biology, chemistry, and physics but also thriving committee work in psychology, geology, aeronautics, and medicine. Each committee prepares interesting demonstrations such as making meteor dust or "frying" eggs with liquid air for the regular meeting Friday afternoon.

The record of this club shows evidence of the hard work done and progress made by these students of our school.

Motion Picture Club

HOW would you girls like to learn more about Van Johnson? Or, boys, how well do you like Lana Turner? The Motion Picture Club, sponsored by Miss Verhulst, is carried on for the discussion and criticism of all types of movies. Plot, setting, musical effect, dialogue, technicolor and personalities are some of the topics reviewed. One of the two meetings of the month is set aside for panel discussion of this type on current movies.

This year the motion picture club had as its major project the showing of films in the Little Theatre for the benefit of the whole school. Some of the best documentary films included those about China, Russia and Great Britain. "Our Enemy, the Japanese" best portrayed war in the Axis nations.

DO you want to learn more about our friends and allies to the South—painlessly—pleasantly? Then the Pan-American Club, sponsored by Miss Manning, is the place to go.

The club believes it can further the Good Neighbor Policy best by gaining a better knowledge of the Latin-Americans. To start off in the right mood, the first meeting of each semester was a program of lively South American recordings; and the last was a party in true Latin style. In the fall, the group was especially fortunate in having an Argentinean explain the conditions in his homeland. Miss Tyler and Miss Manning also entertained the club with colorful travelogs. To satisfy the students' interest in South American urban life, movies dealing with Montevideo, Buenos Aires, and Rio de Janeiro were shown.

CAN you type? Are you experienced in clerical work of all kinds? Do you have any knowledge of the problems of big business? These are some of the first questions asked of persons applying for secretarial jobs and some of the first answered in meetings of the Commercial Club. If you have found yourself falling short of these qualifications, it would be a good plan to attend these meetings held under the sponsorship of Mrs. Magee. In these meetings they have interesting discussions about the many aspects of the commercial world. They also plan visits to business establishments and schools of business such as Dyke.

Cabinet meetings are held on Wednesday, 5th period, when the important questions of policies are discussed. The inter-club representative brings back ideas from other Girl Reserve clubs. Friendship Club

In these smaller groups the girls can become acquainted with one another. The Ring Group is sponsored by Miss Edwards and furnishes enjoyment for the whole club. At the installation ceremony, the girls who have attended at least six meetings and have showed an interest in the group, receive a friendship ring.

Making bandages, paper bags, and cross-word puzzles were some of the things done by the service group. The articles were sent to Crile and other hospitals.

The social group helped plan the Christmas program and the club parties, and was in charge of any social function of the club.

Girls who have a flair for acting may join the dramatic group of the club. Those girls who think they have a voice have a chance to join the music group. The club provides numerous opportunities for all girls.

The club holds regular meetings devoted to service to which the whole group contributes. Attendance is always good at these meetings which shows the spirit of cooperation the members feel. Bandages for the Red Cross, as well as paper bags and cartoon books, are made then. The girls are conscious of the important work they are doing when they attend the meetings.

Speakers for the girls come to the Monday meetings and provide interesting talks. Every such program is looked forward to by all.

Music Appreciation Club

THE music played softly. The two lovers gazed into each other's eyes.

She: You, too, love—
He: With all my heart and soul—
She: And all this time I never realized—
He: So beautiful—
She: So tender—

So two music lovers sit in West Music Room at three o'clock on Monday and listen to the passionate strains of Tschaikowsky's Romeo and Juliet.

Dorsey or Debussy?

Begun eight years ago, after receipt of a gift from the Carnegie Foundation of over $1,500 worth of equipment, the Music Appreciation Club under the guidance of Mr. Ralph Rush has grown to a membership of well over one-hundred members and is one of Heights' largest clubs.

Each week on Monday a program of recorded music is presented. In addition to a printed program, notes are distributed to the members along with various lists and pamphlets secured by the club. It is the aim of the club to entertain its members and also to give them a new hobby, one they can never lose—music.

Each spring the club enters the annual Music Memory Contest given by the Cleveland Orchestra. Then too, guest artists come to the school and give solo appearances.

If you are one of those who say, "I don't know much about music—but I like to listen to it"—try our method, the Music Appreciation Club.

Rifle Club

THE Rifle Club, newly organized this year, is one of the many organizations now offered at Heights with the purpose in mind of helping those boys who will be going into the services. Affiliated with the National Rifle Association, the club follows a plan patterned by it. The first semester consists of the study of nomenclature of the rifle, safety and range rules, sighting, trigger squeeze, breathing, use of the sling, and shooting in the prone position. During the second semester, the sitting, standing, and kneeling positions were studied, and members were given the opportunity to shoot for N.R.A. citations.

The club is divided into three groups which meet on different nights at 2:45 on the school's fifty-foot range.

Heights Round Table

DO you have some vital opinion on world affairs for which you need an attentive audience? Do you think the course of the war might be changed with a little of your advice? Well, your chance to air your views is to join the Heights Round Table. Here you can state any and all opinions which you may have.

At each of the meetings a different aspect of current events is discussed. Doubtless when the opinions of others are heard, the various ideas are clarified. All the meetings are under the sponsorship of Mr. Fast.

A Stitch in Time

Disaster Corps

IN the early part of the 1944-1945 school year, Cleveland was shocked by one of the worst fire disasters in its history. This was the East Ohio Gas Company fire. Answering the call for workers in the field and re-location headquarters were the members of the Heights High Junior Disaster Corps.

A hard working organization, the Disaster Corps, under the sponsorship of Mr. Barbour, has been steadily doing service to the school and the community. Early in the fall term, the group sponsored a clothing drive called a "Bundles for Russia" drive. During the spring term the chief project of this group has been making joke books and cartoon books for hospitals in the Cleveland area, taking care of returning men of the armed services.

The Disaster Corps is a sister organization of the Heights Junior Red Cross chapter, their work and aims being somewhat similar. The Disaster Corps has this year worked quite closely with the Red Cross in that it has continually been pushing the drive for magazines and pocket size books for the armed services.

Boosters Club

ON those brisk snappy mornings last fall there was more in the air than just excitement! Loyal Booster members were braving the stratosphere, to decorate the goal posts. Yes, it was the Boosters' Club that dressed up the field for the games week after week. The climax came when, for the first time, girl cheerleaders added to the excitement of the Saturday afternoons.

The Boosters' Club, ably supervised by Mr. Clifford, is responsible for organizing the fans of all Heights athletics. No student has missed the posters, public address announcements (and girls with black jacks) "suggesting" that the student body attend those "all terrific" pep rallies preceding the basketball games. Following their policy of aiming to please, the Boosters sold refreshments during both basketball and football season.

In February, Willard and his W.H.K. band came to play at a very successful dance, which was, of course, sponsored by the Boosters' Club.

While more and more girls are coming out to boost Heights' spirit, the male membership is becoming one of those precious pre-war memories.

Boosters Club

This is slightly strange, considering that at the beginning of each semester, each homeroom in the school elects a Booster representative. It is the duty of these representatives to take back to their homerooms reports of the club's projects. They and others interested earn membership to Boosters by participating in its activities and accumulating 100 points.

Beta Hi-Y

AS usual, the Beta Boys have come out on top. They have successfully maintained their high standards by representing the school in both scholastic and athletic events and at the same time have kept in mind their duties and obligations as a Christian organization.

Beta has had a part in athletics by placing its members on the football, baseball, basketball, swimming, and track team.

The men of Beta Y also were prominent as officers in the school, with Dick Knupp, president of the H Club, Dave Ayars and Bill Asiano, the senior class presidents, and George Blesch who was editor-in-Chief of the Caldron.

Gamma Hi-Y

"OF all the other Hi-Y's, Gamma is the best." This is not only the last line to the Gamma song but it is also the objective of all the members to keep it the best by maintaining the high standards of character, scholarship, and service which are requisites for membership in the organization.

Gamma members excelled in all fields of endeavor. Jere Caswell was on the track and basketball teams; president, Norm Owen, was treasurer of the Student Council and a member of the National Honor Society; Fred Scadding was president of Boosters Club; Bob Blesch, a sophomore, was on the swimming team; and president, Leonard Ficken, was associate editor of the Caldron. Active in Heights Players and Boosters Club was Jim Nusbaum, and in the Heights Band were Don Amott, John Roodhuyzen and George Climo.

Delta Hi-Y

THE Delta boys seem never to let a year pass without proving that their club is made up of members outstanding in leadership, character, and sportsmanship. Every one remembers the exciting moments that Norty Noll, Matt Smith, and Jim Peterson gave us this past fall when they participated in the football games. Malcolm Cutting has given outstanding service to the Caldron Staff. The Deltas were also well represented in the Combined Hi-Y's when Don Eldridge was elected secretary. We hope that next year they will keep up their excellent service.

Epsilon Hi-Y

TOO much cannot be said about the members of Epsilon Hi-Y, for they can constantly be seen around Heights High, contributing beneficial service in some way or another. For example, the Epsilon boys can be seen participating in athletic events of all sorts: football, baseball, basketball, track, and swimming. They are also on hand to help support the school's social events: plays, dances, and concerts. Plenty of "get up and go", plus a genuine desire to be of service as a Hi-Y Club, has continued this year, as in the past, to be Epsilon's order of the day.

Wistgoma Hi-Y

LAST but by no means least on the list of Hi-Y clubs is Wistgoma. The name Wistgoma typifies the ideals of Hi-Y clubs by combining the first two letters of the words, "Wisdom, Stature, God, and Man."

This club, which is the oldest Hi-Y at Heights, is well represented in the various school activities. The members are active on the football, basketball, swimming, and baseball teams as well as the Band, Choir, and N.H.S. This year's social calendar includes a very successful hay ride, a stag party and a closed dance. All of the boys are outstanding citizens of Heights High School and are a credit to the club's well chosen name.

Service Club

THE purpose of this new organization at Heights is to increase the skills and ability of the pupil in office work and at the same time, serve the teachers and the office of our school in all kinds of office projects. The Service Group, under the supervision of Mrs. Magee, has done a vast amount of work for the school, such as typing, stenciling and mimeographing. It also has served some of the war organizations outside of school. Its aim is to continue this service as far as it is possible and we are all thankful to this group for the great service which it is doing.

Concert Band

THE high quality of the Heights Band was maintained again this year, thanks to the hard work and long hours put in by the members and their capable director, Mr. Ralph Rush. That the results, however, were certainly worthwhile anyone who attended any of the football games or concerts will agree.

In order to present the stirring spectacles that were witnessed between the halves of the Heights games, the band learned thirty-two different formations, including numerous school letters, several new monograms, and many formations representing various branches of the services. The close of the football season was celebrated with the Ninth Annual Military Ball, attended by ninety-six couples, representing many schools of Greater Cleveland.

On November twenty-second came the Fall Pop Concert, in which the Roosevelt Singers, directed by Miss Edith White, combined with the band in three numbers. Other band features included an elaborate arrangement of "Over There," and, "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Among the other major appearances were the Spring Concert, The Greater Cleveland Band Contest at John Hay High School, the Thank You Concert, the Solo and Ensemble Contest, and several parades. The social events included the previously mentioned Military Ball, a splash party followed by a dinner, and the Awards Dinner, at which were presented Band and Orchestra letters and other awards.

Dance Band

A NEW addition to Heights is the Heights "High Hats", an eighteen piece dance band composed of boys from the band and orchestra. Among their appearances were the Senior Prom and several of the all-school dances.

Their attractive music stands were made by Mr. Weber's woodworking classes and the novel "top hat" design was originated and painted on by Charlene Gusman.

A great improvement over the recorded music of former school dances, the dance band is another one of the things that helps to make Heights High the "up-to-date" school it has always been.

Symphony Orchestra

AN important part of the music department is the Symphony Orchestra, composed of forty-eight musicians. This year the orchestra performed at many appearances and upheld the traditionally high standards for which the Heights musical organizations are known.

The orchestra's first appearance was the Fall Pop Concert, in which two of the featured selections were, Handel's "Concerto Grosso," and Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik." The next major appearance came on February eighth, when the orchestra joined with the Men's Glee Club of John Carroll University, and the Girls' Chorus of Notre Dame College to present Brookner's "Te Deum," at Severance Hall. Following this was the Solo and Ensemble Contest at Thomas Jefferson Junior High School, in which several orchestra members competed and maintained the high record of former Heights instrumentalists. Two other major appearances were the Spring Concert on March twenty-third, and the Thank You Concert on June first.

One of the major social events of the year was a splash party in the pool, followed by a dinner, attended by the staffs of the band and orchestra and the seniors. The season was concluded with the Awards Dinner, at which the various letters and awards were presented to the musicians for their diligent work throughout the year. We are grateful for the fact that our school encourages music and has such organizations as the Heights Symphony Orchestra.

Girls' Glee Club

EVERY second period throughout the year in the vicinity of the East Music Room, the members of the Girls' Glee Club could be heard blending their voices in song.

Although they have few appearances, the girls work diligently, and many are rewarded at the end of the year with membership in the Heights Choir. The big moment comes when the list of new choir members is posted and everyone dashes up to see whether her name is included.

Directed by Mr. George F. Strickling, the Glee Club sings a variety of music and is an ideal class for girls who enjoy singing.

A Cappella Choir

THE main event of the 1944-45 Heights Choir, consisting of eighty-five singers, was its performance on a one hour broadcast over the NBC National network, commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio. Broadcast from the Cleveland Public Auditorium, the program featured the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra with Howard Barlow conducting, Gladys Swarthout, Jan Peerce and Victor Borge, with Deems Taylor as Master of Ceremonies. Among the numbers sung by the choir were, "Beautiful Ohio," "Ol' Man River," and "You Are Love."

Another performance for which the choir worked diligently was the Annual Christmas Concert, which opened with the traditional candelight procession and closed with the choir alumni coming to the stage to join in with the present group in singing the choir theme, "Emitte Spiritum."

In addition to singing on a fifteen minute radio program for the War Chest Drive, and singing Christmas carols at Crosby's Restaurant, Halle's, and the Thompson Aircraft Products Company, the choir sang at the Church of the Saviour, the Shaker Country Club, the Pearl Harbor assembly, National Honor Society initiation, and commencement. The songsters also gave a concert at Chagrin Falls.

In addition to its many appearances and rehearsals the choir had several social events through the year. Among these were a hay ride, picnics at the beginning and end of the school year, and a party following the Christmas Concert, which was sponsored by the Choir Mothers' Club.

The number of blue stars on the service flag hanging in the East Music Room has grown to 162, and the number of gold stars has increased to four.

For completing, with his superb direction, another year of successful choir appearances, we extend our heartiest thanks to Mr. Strickling.

Student Council

THE student governing body at Heights is the Student Council. Through the homeroom representatives and the executive board, consisting of the presidents of all the major clubs and activities, a most varied cross-section of ideas and representations is obtained.

Playing a prominent part in the council this year were the various committees which managed such things as the sale of War Bonds and Stamps, the assemblies, the class elections and the paper sales. The leasing of bulletin board space, the managing of the service plaque containing the names of those Heights graduates who have died in the service of their country, and the issuing of charters to the various clubs, all come under the auspices of the council.

This year the council advocated the policy of encouraging the average Heights student to speak out and give his ideas on how things should be carried on. As a result, many ideas floated into the Student Council basket in Room 231. All of the suggestions could not be incorporated this year and some were filed for future use. However, the biggest idea of all was put into effect in the Sixth War Loan drive at Heights. The positions of Mr. Morley, Mr. Flint, Mr. Rush, Miss Wallace, and the president of the Student Council were auctioned off for one day to the five biggest bond buyers. As a result, the drive which was run off in nine school days, netted a total of over one hundred thousand dollars in War Bonds, twice the total of the previous record.

With the wise counsel of Mr. Morley and Mrs. Baker, faculty sponsor, and the splendid co-operation received from the rest of the faculty, student clubs, and activities, the Student Council was able to complete its program of successful activities throughout the school year.

National Honor Society

ONE of the highest honors a Heights student can be accorded is membership in the National Honor Society. Character, service, scholarship and leadership are the four qualities upon which all prospective members are judged. For this reason all pupils who have this exclusive organization as their goal, endeavor to keep their grades as high as possible and take part in numerous extra-curricular activities. The Society is under the sponsorship of Miss Whitsey.

During the latter part of each semester an N.H.S. assembly is held, at which the new members are initiated. It is always an exciting moment when the names are read and the students go to the stage to receive their certificates. School service is prominent in the lives of N.H.S. members, and they devote a good many hours a week to it. Among the various services performed are: office work, tutoring, and library work. Another activity that the Heights chapter took part in was the formal opening of a National Honor Society chapter at Wickliffe High School.

Naturally, N.H.S. has several social events each year. These include a Christmas party, a spring picnic, and usually a theater party. The National Honor Society members are the school leaders, and Heights High may well be proud of them for they help immensely in maintaining the high standards for which she is known.

Girls' Cabinet

THE CI assembly and party started the Girls' Cabinet calendar, which was especially full this year. Then followed: the Hallowe'en party for Junior and Senior girls, starring Maureen Daly, distinguished young American author; Thanksgiving baskets warming the tables of St. John's Cathedral, the Marine Center, the Coast Guard Station, and U.S.O.; Clean-up Squad under the leadership of Sue Woodward; the servicemen's flag, commemorating the patriotism and loyalty of every Heights hero who has fought and died for his country; faculty Christmas cards; and the annual Christmas party held at Miss Wallace's.

The spring term rolled around and found the girls planning the George Washington party for lower class girls, the Mother's and Daughter's tea, and plans substituting for the Father-Daughter dinner.

For twenty-one years, Cabinet, the governing body of girls, has been sponsored by Miss Wallace, who never seems to run out of ideas or pep, and who is in the minds of those who know her best, described by the words a "friend in need is a friend indeed". For twenty-one years Girls' Cabinet has emphasized the importance of good manners and good grooming, and has worked for the welfare and happiness of every Heights girl. With their continued support the future of Cabinet looks especially promising.

Assembly Committee

ARE you one of the many who labor under the happy delusion that the assemblies allegedly enjoyed by students and faculty every other Tuesday morning grow on trees or are sent from heaven? If so, you are requested to note the weary procession wending its way from Room 239 at 5:00 P.M. or thereabouts, each Tuesday afternoon. This bedraggled group is comprised of the brave members of the Assembly Committee, who spend 99-44/100% of their time attempting to revise scripts in such a way that there will be sufficient morals to satisfy our beloved faculty and sufficient laughs to keep the students happy. Proportionate honors go to the group's long-suffering sponsor, Miss Tyler. This popular, red-headed English teacher has for years guided its members quietly and efficiently to the satisfaction of all concerned.

We have the Assembly Committee to thank for such programs as the hilarious Clubs' Assembly, in which Heights Broadcasters took the prize with their Great Melodrama, featuring haughty heroines, vicious villains, handsome heroes and seductive sirens. December 7th witnessed the stirring memorial assembly dedicated to those former pupils who have been killed since D-Day in the defense of their country. Another unforgettable program was the Christmas assembly, written and directed by members of the committee. This production portrayed the democratic Christmas spirit found in American homes, omitting none of the joy and good will characteristic of Yule time.

Heights Players

THE big day finally arrives and casting for the current Heights Players' production is under way. Excitement and speculation run riot in Room 241, but within two or three days the complete cast and crew have been selected. Then begin the gruelling hours of rehearsals and conferences that must necessarily precede the enjoyable finished performance.

Major productions, however, constitute only a small part of the activities of Heights Players.

Weekly studio productions in the Little Theatre, theatre parties, the annual Christmas banquet, President's Day, and the spring picnic all contribute toward making Heights Players the live wire organization that has been called one of the outstanding dramatic groups of the country.

The club is under the expert guidance of Dina Rees Evans, more intimately known to her devotees as "Doc".

This year Heights Players spiced the fall semester by presenting the uproarious farce "Out of the Frying Pan" which broke all previous attendance records for a one night performance. In answer to an invitation a group of Heights Players successfully prepared and presented a play at a Collinwood High assembly. In the spring the club ended a thoroughly successful season by again delighting their audience with a presentation of "If I Were King".

National Thespians

"TO create a spirit of active and intelligent interest in dramatics among boys and girls of our secondary schools" is the aim of the National Thespian Society. This honorary organization is only one of 500 such chapters organized throughout America.

For five years Heights has had a group of National Thespians known as Troupe 410, which holds semi-annual initiation ceremonies for those students who have earned the proper credits as Apprentices and Journeymen and who have done their share of work as Masters towards making Heights Players an active organization. Only the most outstanding Players are admitted. The annual candlelight ceremony highlighting the Heights Players Christmas banquet is one of the most exciting, beautiful and impressive features of the year.

This year Thespians are continuing their efforts to boost morale by writing to former members who have joined the forces of Uncle Sam and by planning to aid a large Naval Hospital in Virginia. Dolly Wheaton, a former Thespian, is director of the hospital's Red Cross Center and has told Troupe 410 of the lack of proper recreational facilities. So you see, National Thespians are always on the job, always looking for improvement, and faithfully living up to their motto: "Act well your part; there all the honor lies."

THE American Junior Red Cross, under the leadership and guidance of Miss Agnes Regan, is now in its third year of one hundred percent membership at Heights High School. The Red Cross functions as a co-ordinating organization for all of the war activities at Heights.

A representative, elected from every homeroom, attends the meetings of the Council and conducts the Red Cross activities in the homeroom unit. The art and home economics classes have contributed their time and talent, and various other major organizations and extra-curricular groups have worked on Red Cross projects. Each organization receives the credit due for its contributions. Highlighting the year's activities is the annual Christmas project of "service to the services." Each boy and girl at school contributes either gifts, or money for food. These gifts, as with all the contributions to the American Junior Red Cross, are delivered in person by representatives from various groups. The students who are fortunate enough to go on these trips experience the education of seeing the inside workings of the service groups stationed in Cleveland, as well as the satisfaction of seeing the joy that their efforts have brought to the servicemen and women.

Black and Gold Mailing Committee

THE Black and Gold Mailing Committee of the American Junior Red Cross of Heights High School was organized in 1943 to undertake the mailing of each issue of the school paper to Heights Alumni in the services both at home and overseas.

Originally the committee consisted of eight girls who mailed Black and Golds to a list of a hundred servicemen. By the end of the year the list had more than doubled. Because of the increase of names, at the beginning of this year the committee was expanded to include approximately twenty-five girls. Their files now contain more than six hundred names. The committee is justly proud of their record of completing the addressing, stamping, sealing, and mailing of each issue of the Black and Gold on the date of publication. This service has been aided by the generosity of all the Heights students.

Auxiliary Aides

THE Auxiliary Aid, the newest committee of the American Junior Red Cross, was created this year to serve as a production group. This active committee of girls has made favors for Camp Atterbury, and menu covers for the Coast Guard. They will continue to work on mittens and bonnets for the children of the European theater of war as well as articles for the Service hospitals.

The girls work on these projects during their spare periods five, six, nine or after school. Drop into Room 327 any time of the day and you are sure to find some of these energetic girls hard at work. Ingenious members of the group are continually finding new ways to serve, and new projects are constantly being completed for the local and service hospitals, canteens, service groups stationed in Cleveland, and for former students of Heights who are serving in the armed forces.

Corridor Guards

THERE is no question in anyone's mind as to who are the most popular people in our school (that is besides the faculty) because everyone knows it's the corridor guards, who armed with a mouthful of sarcastic remarks and a freezing stare, are enough to make anyone wish he hadn't skipped English after all. Whoever named them corridor guards wasn't just "kidding" for they prowl through the halls and growl at all loafers. The only thing they lack is a gun with which to threaten you.

But all joking aside, the corridor guards deserve credit for giving up their study hall periods to help keep law and order in the halls of Heights High.

In the fall when we first came back to the dear old Alma Mater, and before the noon movies started, the guards had a tough time trying to keep the more restless students from roaming, but they stuck to their posts and their duties. As a result, we had quieter halls, better attendance, and classes had a chance to absorb some of the "words of wisdom" that were floating around them.

This year under the supervision of Head Captain, Lee Smith, and Mr. Flint, our corridor guards have done their best to keep the halls quiet and orderly. Whether these faithful workers were outside a chemistry lab., giving out tardy slips, or clearing the front hall after the three o'clock "all clear", they were at their jobs. What we need is a few more like them at Heights.

NOT much imagination is required to realize that the task of directing the many corridor guards at Heights carries with it a great responsibility. Nevertheless, the job was handled very well this year by that small group of "pillars of law and order," known as the Corridor Guard Captains. Under the direction of Mr. Flint and Lee Smith, who was head captain this year, the boys successfully carried out their jobs, which included: keeping the corridor guards on their toes, clearing the halls during the ninth periods, and issuing passes to pupils who were some place other than where they were supposed to be.

To an outsider this business of being a Corridor Guard Captain may seem like a "soft job" of bossing everybody else around. Actually, it involves a lot of hard work, and the positions are given only to those who can accept the responsibility.

To sum things up in a few words, all we can say is, "Thanks, Corridor Guard Captains, for another successful year!"

PLINK! Plink! Two more pennies are dropped into the noon movie box. Seeing that every student pays the correct amount of money at the noon movies is one of the main jobs of the noon movie guards. The money adds up fast and it is one of the basic means of income for the general fund of the Student Council. The other jobs of the noon movie guards are to preserve order, act as ushers, and keep the auditorium cleaned in the sections to which they are assigned. These jobs sometimes present quite a problem. Cleaning up waste paper, food, and other debris is no easy task, especially when a lunch, which has been trampled on, is found. Keeping order, mainly among the rowdy individuals, is also a job for no weakling. In case you ever wonder why that human form is flying out of the auditorium, it is only the result of some noon movie guard's performing one of his daily tasks.

The guards are selected very carefully by Mr. Flint. They provide that the pictures may be seen without any disturbance that would distract your attention or spoil the movie for you.

THE assemblies, concerts, plays, and other various programs that are continually taking place in the Heights High auditorium would be far less excellent in quality if it were not for the valuable work of the stage crew. This year's officers, to whom much credit for this work is due, were Al Harris, captain, and Joel Rubin, lieutenant. Dave Caulkins had charge of the sound crew, while "Doc" Catalano directed the lighting.

Among the numerous performances on which the stage crew worked this year were both the spring and fall productions of the Heights Players, the various concerts presented by the musical department, the many school assemblies, the Girls' Swim Pageant, and, "Last Will and Testament," a play presented at Collinwood High School by the Heights Players.

Our hats are off to the stage crew for making another year of successful performances possible with its skillful management.

Visual Education Club

President
Bob Sperling

WHILE watching movies or slides being flashed upon the screen in the Little Theatre or in one of your classrooms did you ever stop to realize that someone has to operate those projection machines? The students to whom this job falls are the members of the Visual Education Club. It is their job to manipulate the motion picture projectors and slide lanterns whenever any of the classes or clubs want to include movies or slides in their programs. Much of this work requires a great deal of skill on the part of the operators, and a large amount of training is necessary before one can call himself an experienced projection machine operator.

The Club, under the able direction of Mr. Christman, serves a double purpose. In the first place, the members are given useful instruction and experience in the mechanics of motion picture equipment. Moreover, the school as a whole benefits, for by having pupils who are trained in the operation of this equipment, the showing of movies to classes on a large scale is made possible.

For another year of valuable school service, Heights High extends her thanks to the Visual Education Club.

Athletic Service Club

Athletic Admittance

THE Athletic Service Club is one of the most valuable clubs in the school, for without it, public sports events would be almost impossible. Its activities are varied, and include: collecting the tickets and money at all games and meets, making sure that the books balance, serving as guards, announcers and score-keepers at sports events, and selling candy and pop corn in the stands. A new addition to the A.S.C.'s services this year was the play-by-play-descriptions of the football games over the public address system.

The financial part is quite important, for the money collected at the gate and from candy and pop corn sales finances all of the athletic teams. During the first few weeks of every school year the A.S.C. has a campaign to sell all-sports passes. With these passes students are admitted to all Heights sports events during the year.

Under its new sponsor, Mr. Vannorsdall, the club has successfully continued its important work. Thanks, A.S.C., for another year of valuable school service.

Black and Gold Staff

"WHAT do you anxiously look for in Home Room every other Friday morning?" Well, it couldn't be that cut slip again, so it must be the Black and Gold. We all realize that the Black and Gold Staff must work especially hard to get the paper out on time, for whether you know it or not, they do not stay after school to work on it.

Under the faculty supervision of Mr. Ambrose P. Spencer, the Black and Gold has received All-American rating by the National Scholastic Press Association. It has also received high ratings from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Because of the war and the scarcity of many essential supplies, the paper has been cut down so that it comes out once every two weeks, but this doesn't lessen the joy of reading it, one bit. We all hope the war will end soon, and with the end of the war, we may see the Black and Gold more often.

Hermes Staff

PUBLISHING a newspaper in a "dead" language sounds like an impossibility, doesn't it? Yet, the Hermes Staff has concluded its fourteenth year doing just that—publishing a three-column, four-page, Latin newspaper filled with news of current interest, feature material, poetry, jokes, puzzles, and choice morsels of wit!

Although organized at first as a project of the Latin Senate, then a club at Heights, the paper progressed to a full-time undertaking and emerged as an official publication. Since it has become a part of several university classical files, its circulation includes Latin classes at Heights and in the junior high schools and also various Latin clubs and newspapers throughout the country.

Under the efficient guidance of Miss Edwards, who this year replaced Miss Ida Julia Bouck as sponsor of the paper, the Hermes has been published quarterly with each issue bearing contributions timely to the season and trend of events. The staff is organized with editors for each of the four pages and an editor-in-chief who has, during this past year, been Doris Temme.

Latin may have passed from existence with the Romans, but the gratifying results of the Hermes Staff prove that even a "dead" language can be enlivened by modern application. Publishing a Latin paper is not an easy job and though the members of the Hermes Staff have worked long hours at this task, the satisfaction that is theirs in seeing a job well done when the copy appears is, in itself, just recompense.

Inter-Club Council

IF you think you get headaches with your homework, think what huge headaches the Inter-Club Council must get, for it is the duty and goal of this organization to iron out all inter-club problems and financial difficulties.

Most of the work of the council may be listed under any one of its three committees. First of all is the Finance Committee which, under the leadership of a Finance Director, thoroughly investigates all of the various requests for financial aid from the clubs. The aid that they are able to give is made possible by a fund of $80.00, received from the Student Council each year. Next in importance comes the Program Committee; this group under the supervision of a Program Director interviews newcomers to Heights, and thus tries to help them find clubs that may further their ambitions. The newest of these committees is the War Activities Committee which plans ways and means through which the school clubs may help in the war effort. A War Activities Honor Roll has been devised by this committee to which any club is eligible, provided it has sufficient war work to its credit.

Even though it has been in existence only five years, this council has often proved its worth. Under the faculty sponsorship of Mr. Nash, it is made up of one representative from each club. In a way it is the Mr. Anthony of Heights, for any time a problem arises, it is promptly turned over to the Inter-Club Council, which in turn irons it out and hands it back. Let us hope that the Council will keep up the good work it is doing and has already done.

Crest Staff

THE Crest magazine is a student publication for the original work of Heights High writers and artists. This periodical has won a first place in national competition in The Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest for the past three years. The Crest student staff conducts all the work of soliciting material and of editing the magazine. Any member of the student body may submit stories, articles, poetry, or art work for consideration by the staff which selects all materials published in each issue.

Quill and Scroll

HEIGHTS' Quill and Scroll group boasts sixteen members, eleven of whom belong to the Crest Staff, and five who are members of the Black and Gold.

The Quill and Scroll is a national honorary society for the members of school publication staffs. To qualify for membership the student must be at least a junior and in the upper third of his class, have done superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative writing, be recommended by the supervisor of the publication, and be approved by the executive secretary of Quill and Scroll.

Lenny and the Guillotine

Caldron Staff

THE 2:45 gong sounds and already a rapidly growing crowd is assembling outside the locked door of Room 202, waiting with great agitation for the tardy editor-in-chief, who finally arrives laden with bundles of returned photos, unchecked copy, fresh bottles of rubber cement, and other sundry articles which only a member of the Caldron staff can conceive. Thus begins the daily session in the Caldron room.

"Has John been in yet?" inquires an impatient section editor, looking nervously about for long awaited pictures.

"Which John?" mumbles an assistant looking up momentarily from an unfinished write-up.

"Gregory! I wanted those swim pictures today. Oh well, maybe tomorrow."

Thus time flies on and for a while things are fairly quiet, that is until a photographer enters and is mobbed on all sides by an eager throng of picture-hungry section editors.

During the interim between 2:45 and 5:00 typewriters buzz, pencils scratch unceasingly, and over all hangs the indescribable odor of rubber cement. At 5:00 the janitor warns that it is time to "close up shop", although often eager editors work on until nearly six.

But for you ardent boosters who desire a bit of serious information, here is something about the staff which you may not know: It is divided into two groups, the business group supervised by Mr. Behney, and the editorial department directed by Mrs. Liston. The business department collects money from Caldron subscribers, while the editorial group takes care of all the photography and fascinating (?) write-ups which make up every Caldron.

Although the shortages caused by the war have been anything but helpful, the Caldron staff has done its best to overcome these hardships and give you the biggest and best yearbook ever.

Coach Baughman

Football

THE Heights Tigers began their 1944 football season under the mentorship of coaches Howard Baughman and Danny Piloseno. Flashing a powerful offensive, the Bengals opened the grid campaign with a brilliant victory of 46 to 0 over Glenville.

With what seemed a promising season ahead of them, the Hilltoppers travelled to Lakewood where they were overwhelmed by a heavy Ranger eleven, 45-0. This defeat proved to be the Bengals' most decisive beating of the year.

Backed by a stiffened line, the Tigers went to Lorain for their second setback of the season. Outscored but never out played the Bengals drove through the Steelmen's territory with a powerful ground attack only to be thwarted in their scoring bid. The Lorain players took advantage of one break, a Heights fumble on the 16 yard line in the second quarter, to score the only tally in the game. When the final gun went off, the score still stood 6-0.

Striking through the air in the final seconds of play the roaring Tigers humbled a favored Collinwood team, 7-6, in one of the most dramatic finishes ever witnessed by gridiron fans. Collinwood led throughout the game, paced by mighty Mike Cannivino. However through a brilliant passing and receiving offensive the Bengals tied the score and an accurate placement was the margin of victory.

Hampered by injuries incurred in the game against Collinwood, Heights the following week fell victim to the powerful running and passing attack of the Elyria Pioneers. The contest ended 21 to 7.

For the first time since 1935 a fighting Heights Tiger outfit was defeated by a Shaker High football squad. Held powerless by the solid Red-Raider line, the Bengals after scoring first in the second quarter lost the game by one touchdown, 6 to 12. The Shakerites first scored in the third period after recovering a Black and Gold fumble on the Heights 4 yard line. The Shaker team's winning touchdown came after a sustained drive of 40 yards deep into our territory.

The Heights-John Adams encounter ended 18 to 7. The Hilltoppers had to come from behind to pull this victory out of the fire by scoring twice in eight minutes.

In traditional manner the season's climactic ending came with the Heights-Shaw game where the Tigers' tail was twisted for the third straight time. The East Clevelanders capitalized on two first quarter breaks and assumed a commanding lead to defeat the Heights men, 25-0, on a mud splattered field.

Basketball

DECEMBER 7, 1944 marked the opening of the basketball season at Heights High. The Vanmen first met Elyria, dropping the game by twelve points. However the following week Heights captured its first victory by a score of 52-40 over Lorain. On January 4, we travelled to Lakewood suffering a surprise setback of 25 to 26, but the next week a tally of 52-48 gave us a victory over Shaker High. However following this, the Vanmen suffered two successive defeats of 32-54 by Shaw, and 36-39 by Elyria. On February 1, the team began a solid winning streak that lasted through to the end of the season. The record of our victories is as follows: Lorain 44-32, Lakewood 37-32, Shaker 57-30, University School 59-40, and on February 24, the smashing defeat of Shaw 61-29.

This year coach Vannorsdall had only three returning lettermen with whom to work. They were: Ronny Paolucci, Al Landy and Bill Prall. Dorrold Haskell was high point man for the squad during the season. Although off to a poor start the team carried on to complete a successful season. It would seem that "a successful season" is the rule with basketball teams coached by Van.

THE 1944 season of the Heights cross country track squad was not too successful due to a lack of good running material turning out for the sport. The team had only three meets scheduled. The first was a triangular race with Rhodes and Cathedral Latin in which we captured second place. Next, Collinwood, Cathedral Latin, Rhodes and Heights met and here Heights took third place. The last race for the cross country team was the district meet. Although the results of the various meets were not very gratifying, nevertheless five boys showed sufficient ability to warrant their receiving letters. They were: Murray Garrison, Walter Wheaton, Blair Filler, Jere Caswall, Ted Mandeville.

This year Mr. Engel, who finished his fourth year as head coach of track, has been assisted by Howard Baughman in training the spring track squad. The following is a list of the contests in which the team participated. The first meet of the season was at Rhodes on April 24. This was followed by the annual Hilltoppers' meet on April 27, involving Shaker, University School, and Heights. Contests were held on May 1 and 8 followed by the Lake Erie League meet on May 12 at Lakewood with six schools participating. Shaw High came to our field on May 15 after which we entered the District meet at Thomas Edison. Collinwood and Heights tangled on the twenty-second with the State events held a week later. Four returning lettermen bolstered the team. They were: Jere Caswall, Frank Reynolds, Shael Siegel and Bill Prall.

Swimming

ON December 6, 1944, the swimming season at Heights opened, with a smashing victory of 45 to 21 over Lakewood. However, the team later suffered reverses at the hands of Shaker, 27 to 39, and Canton McKinley, 28 to 38. On January 16 Heights grappled with Shaw, losing by a score of 37 to 29. We won from East Tech on January 19 with a tally of 37 to 29. However on the next two meets we went down to Western Reserve Academy, 23 to 43, and to University School, 11 to 55. On the sixth of February we claimed our second victory over the East Tech mermen 51½ to 14½. The last two meets of the season were on February 9 and 16 with Shaw and Shaker respectively. We lost both. In the Lake Erie League meet on the seventeeth we captured fourth place.

At the end of the season the team met and elected Jim Wilbraham honorary captain. The following boys merited letters for their work during the season: Jim Wilbraham, George Blesch, Dave Ayars, Bill Nixon, Bob Blesch, Bill Graf, Dick Tappenden, Ronny Barth, Frank Crilley, Bill Meltzer, and Howard Felder as manager.

The new coach of swimming is Daniel Piloseno who came to Heights from Powhatan, Ohio, where he was football coach for four years.

AN athlete's varsity "H" letter is his certificate of membership in the H-club, a group of boys that represent Heights High's leaders in its various fields of competitive sports. The organization's chief duty is guarding during the noon movies. A highlight of the spring term was the annual H-club show that furnished an hilarious evening of good entertainment put on by the letter men.

Baseball

Safe at Third

The Powerhouse

THIS year the Heights baseball team went through a successful season under the mentorship of Bernard Zweig who has succeeded Harry Gordon. Coming to Heights from the Army, Mr. Zweig has worked hard in our school athletic program, always showing good results. He has instituted a new system in baseball of having a sophomore scrub team to supply future playing material.

The schedule the boys have followed has been a hard one. The team opened with two outside games, the first with John Adams and the second with Lakewood which warmed them up for the league contests that followed. Our opponents were: Collinwood, Shaker, East Tech, University School, and Shaw.

THE sports competition that the boys' homerooms of Heights High have enjoyed this year would neither have been possible nor as successful as it was, if it were not for the fine job turned in by "Cap" Bird and his crew of intramural managers. The care of equipment, officiating, and scheduling are all part of the work done by these boys in running off the homeroom games. For the splendid job and long hours of hard work that Mr. Bird and his student managers have turned in, the school is sincerely grateful.

Girls' Athletic Association

YA-A-A-WN! I'm thankful that I don't have to arrive at school so early every day. However (since I have to write up Girls' Athletic Association for the Caldron) I thought the best way to get the inside story was to attend a Girls' Athletic Association board meeting. These meetings are held at 8:00 A.M. every Tuesday morning.

Everyone is here now, with the exception of the Gym Cadet president, but Peg Redlin, the Girls' Athletic Association's capable president, is starting the meeting anyway. As you know, G.A.A. is composed of : The Athletic Club, Swimming Club, Cadets, Swim Cadets, and Yellow Jackets. Peg is reviewing for the board, the activities of Girls' Athletic Association throughout this year. This organization has been responsible for making tray favors for Crile and Marine Hospital. In addition this group sponsored an after school movie and a doughnut sale.

Someone's knocking at the door. Yes, it's the missing member, complete with curlers in her hair. I guess this meeting is a little early for her, too.

After some other business the meeting is dismissed. My main conclusion is that if these officers are any indication, the Girls' Athletic Association must be a live-wire group of girls. The Girls' Athletic Association is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Turner, Miss Crane, and Miss Bromelmeier.

A Hard-working G. A. A. Board

Athletic Club

COMPOSED of girls who go out for field hockey, basketball, and baseball, the Athletic Club is the largest club in G.A.A. In the fall one can hear cries of "short corner," and "sticks," which are signs that the field hockey season is under way. After a few preliminary practices during which fundamentals are taught, the girls are put on Black or Gold teams in their respective classes. These teams play one another for several weeks, and then about twenty-four or twenty-five girls who come through the season without broken shins are chosen to play on the All-Star teams. From the All-Star players a varsity team is chosen, and the girls receive letters which make them members of Yellow Jackets. Although snow prevented this year's All-Star game, the varsity team was chosen. The same procedure is followed in both basketball and baseball.

During the fall semester girls are put on basketball teams with Gym Cadets as captains. These teams play after school on various afternoons, and give the girls good practice for the regular season which starts with the new semester. The season is climaxed with the Case-Reserve All-Star game. Baseball has run into poor weather for the past few years, but time is found for the Senior-Faculty game.

An added attraction this year was the Athletic Club Bulletin, written by Shirley Packard, who has so capably led the Athletic Club as president.

Garney With Her Yellow Jacket Reach
You Can't Take It with You!

Yellow Jackets

WHENEVER a girl manages to survive a season of hockey, basketball, or baseball and makes the varsity team in one of those sports, she is awarded an "H". This "H" entitles her to membership in Yellow Jackets, which is the girls' varsity club. If a girl isn't a star in any of the previously mentioned sports, she may still earn a letter in either tennis or swimming. The toughest part of becoming a Yellow Jacket isn't getting a letter; it is living through the initiation. Since the initiations are informal, they are a great source of pleasure for the girls—except for those who bear the brunt of the old members' humor. Usually several groups of the victims have to put on skits, which must be at least humorous, and each girl is given something to do which makes her look silly. When the monkey-shines are over, the whole club settles down to the business of devouring the food.

When you try to sneak out of the cafeteria with an apple in one hand and a pretzel in the other, you can be sure that the long arm of a cafeteria guard will snag you back. The cafeteria guards are Yellow Jackets who give up part of the lunch periods to keep an eye on Joe and Hedy Heights in the cafe. They receive movie passes for their work, but usually miss the movie anyway while keeping hungry students in line. This year Mrs. Turner is the club sponsor, and Norma Savage leads the club as president.

Tennis Club

MEMBERSHIP in the Tennis Club is open to any girl who is really interested in tennis. There are no ability tests that must be passed before entrance, the only requirements being payment of G.A.A. dues and regular practice. This policy gives even the girl who knows nothing about tennis an opportunity to enjoy the sport and acquire some skill; while to the veteran player, the club offers the means of keeping in form by competing with other girls.

The tennis club is an important branch of the Girls' Athletic Association. The weekly period of instruction is held in the girls' gym in winter and at Cain Park in the spring. A lively and interested group appear for these sessions Monday afternoons. Every member is obliged to practice with the group at least ten times during the semester. With the gym wall for a partner they greatly improve and perfect their strokes. These afternoons are well worth the time spent; for when better days come, members can play real games and play in a tournament, the main event of the year. One and sometimes two are held, one in the fall and one in the spring. The four finalists receive letters which enable them to join Yellow Jackets. The girls are well instructed by the sponsor, Miss Bromelmeier, with the help of the president, Nancy Geggus, and vice-president, Nancy King. Miss Bromelmeier planned many new activities for this year.

Cadet Leaders

LEFT, right, left, right—forward march! You're right, the Cadet Leaders are on the march again. As you probably know the Cadets are the girls who help Miss Crane and Mrs. Turner in gym classes by checking attendance and leading the classes. They also (groan) count towels and referee after-school games. These girls may be easily recognized, for they wear smart looking black suits which have the letters "CL" embroidered in gold upon the pocket. These girls must have high scholarship ratings and qualities of leadership, poise, and character. They must pass a practical try-out which consists of marching, leading exercises, and performing on the rings, ropes and other apparatus. Finally the candidates are interviewed and voted upon by the active Cadets. Don't get the idea that these girls don't have to take gym themselves. Cadet classes meet during second period and are really tough (just ask any Cadet). Because these girls are leaders they are expected to achieve much more difficult feats than those girls who are in regular gym classes. The girls must keep on their toes in order to know the rules for basketball, volleyball, hockey and baseball well enough to referee these games. Of course the Cadets participated in all sports this year, hockey, basketball and baseball. Under the leadership of the president, Marian Fickel, the Cadet Initiation was an affair which was well worth remembering. How could anyone forget that tremendous spread of food? Probably the most important activity in which the Cadets participated this year, was the marching display that took place at the Shaw-Heights football game. It certainly was a great surprise to everyone when the Cadets, dressed in white, came marching out onto the football field with the Heights Band.

Swimming Club

LET'S see what's doing in the pool today. Since it's Monday, we'll probably find the Swimming Club at work practising strokes and dives. This club is composed of girls who pulled through the try-outs and were able to earn at least forty points at these try-outs. These points are made by doing various strokes, swimming at least ten consecutive lengths, diving, and the amazing feat of swimming the length of the pool in sixteen seconds or less. Every Monday is swim day for the girls, except for the first Monday of every month, which is devoted to a business meeting. Sue Phillips, who is the club president, presides at these meetings and plans are made for various activities, inter-class meets, water polo and splash parties.

In the G.A.A. meet, a girl who earned more than five points was awarded the varsity "H." The senior team which has won the meets in its sophomore and junior years was the favored team again this year. Perhaps the best time of the year for swimmers is the water polo season. The girls enjoy this game, which besides being strenuous is a lot of fun—ducking is legal. A varsity water polo team is chosen each year and the girls are given letters. The swimming club offers a lot of enjoyment to any Heights girl interested in swimming.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Crane, and the help of the officers: Pat Pugsley, Vice-president; Pat Moore, Secretary; Eileen O'Donnell, Treasurer, the swimming club is well worth belonging to.

Swimming Cadets

MANY Heights girls wouldn't know how to swim now if it weren't for the patience and work of the Swimming Cadets. This group of girls led by President Ann Whelan and Vice-President Frances Frank this year does much to help Miss Crane handle the swimming classes. It is they who hand out suits, check attendance, and help the girls in the pool. The Cadets help the swimmers learn various strokes, and if a girl can't swim at all, the Swim Cadets have generally helped her to swim or float the length of the pool before she graduates.

Each Cadet is herself an accomplished swimmer, since to become a Cadet she must swim twenty-two lengths of the pool and pass the Junior Life Saving test. After applying and passing the water test, the prospective members are interviewed and then voted on by numbers. New Cadets have both an informal and formal initiation ceremony, after which a spread is given.

Instead of giving a pageant this year as is their custom, the Cadets worked out various routines. These routines were presented at the boys' swim meets and demonstrated the girls' swimming ability. Another event of which the girls were very proud, was their performance in the Sportsman Show, in which synchronized swimming was done by groups of twelve girls at a time.

The Cadets have a great deal of fun and play an important part in the life of all Heights girls.
